

SystemExperts Offers Packaged Security Service Aimed at Keeping Systems and Networks Safe From Threats

Security Blanket Service Gives Corporations Peace of Mind at an Affordable Price

SUDBURY, MASS. – December 13, 2005 – SystemExperts, a premier provider of network security consulting services, today announced the introduction of its Security Blanket Service. The service, designed to help organizations proactively reduce the risk of computer and network attacks, allows companies to address the issue of network and computer threats without having to dedicate a team of internal staff members to perform many of the tasks necessary to keep an enterprise properly protected.

“Effective security rests on a foundation of simple best practices. Yet, most security organizations are too busy fighting fires to perform these basic functions well,” said Jonathan Gossels, President, SystemExperts. “Through a combination of well honed methodologies and automation, the SystemExperts Security Blanket takes the burden of these routine but labor intensive security best practices off of our clients’ shoulders. It provides a convenient, affordable means for organizations to protect their most valuable assets.”

“The Security Blanket’s combination of timely notification of emerging problems, background monitoring of key systems and infrastructure, and watching our back for hacker activity or other threats to our reputation, enables our IT staff to focus on activities that make our business more successful,” said Marty Quinn, Vice President of Bankruptcy Software Specialists in Memphis, Tennessee. “We also sleep better at night knowing that we have a team of experts on call when we need them.”

Based on knowledge gained from years of computer and network and security consulting engagements, the Security Blanket Service offers an ala carte menu of services – enabling companies to purchase only those services needed. SERVICEcheck & WEBcheck, PATCHperfect, VWTalert, DOMAINcheck, HACKERwatch, SPAMalert, CERTalert, SMARTdays, and EXPERTscan are examples of services on the menu.

Available immediately, pricing for a one-year subscription for the Security Blanket Service starts at $1,500 per month.
